The Importance of A Woman's Story

The audience will see how our experience of life is based on the stories we know by heart. But how well do we really know our individual and family matriarchal history? Audiences will come away with a template for this type of storytelling that includes our struggles, disappointments, wins and transformations.

From Crone to Creatrix, The Evolving Archetype of Midlife Women

Audiences will be inspired to learn of an emerging archetype that is being embodied by women of midlife and beyond. This is the story of an evolutionary moment -- how we go from Crone to Creatrix and how we are reimagining ourselves and each other.

Women, What Are Your Super Powers?

Super heroes and super powers have captured our imagination. The audience will be encouraged to identify their own super powers and how to integrate them into their lives. This talk will focus on the hidden super powers found in maturity, creativity and activism.
